

May 19, 2003

PrivatAir inaugurates new Munich - New York route on behalf of Lufthansa

On Monday May 19, 2003, PrivatAir launched its new business class only shuttle service between Munich and New York's Newark airport behalf of Lufthansa. The route is operated on an ACMI basis 6 days per week (every day except Saturday) with PrivatAir's 48 seat Boeing Business Jet.

The long haul, all business class concept has proved to be eminently successful since June of last year, when PrivatAir and Lufthansa launched the world's first transatlantic business class only scheduled service between Düsseldorf and Newark.

There were 44 passengers on board flight LH 412, which took off from Munich at 11:41 and is scheduled to land in Newark at 14:10 (local times). The return flight (LH 413) leaves Newark at 18:30, arriving in München at 08:15 the following morning.